A PSALM OF LIFE

A French Translation of Longfel low's Great Poem.

Tell me not in disconsolate rhymes: Life is a dream void of sense for the soul is dead when it goes to sleep and the things are not what they appear to us to be

Life is real; life is serious; death is not its term. Dust, thou shalt return to dust. The word has not been said for our soul. Neither joy nor sorrow is our destiny. Our lot is to act in order that each next day may find us more advanced than the day before.

Art is long; time flies; our hearts so ceurageous, so strong as they can be, beat often a funeral march, as they advance toward the tomb like drums veiled with black crape.

In the immense field of battle of the world; in the biyouac of life, be not like the cattle who let themselves her. be pushed on in sitence; be a hero in the melee.
